

Brent Willis of Voyageur Pharmaceuticals discusses the high IRR and NPV in its recent PEA

written by InvestorNews | January 28, 2022

In a recent InvestorIntel interview, Tracy Weslosky spoke with Brent Willis, President and CEO of Voyageur Pharmaceuticals Ltd. (TSXV: VM) about Voyageur's recent Preliminary Economic Assessment resulting in an internal rate of return (IRR) of 137% and a NPV of $344 million for their Frances Creek Pharmaceutical Barium Project located in British Columbia, Canada.

In this InvestorIntel interview, which may also be viewed on YouTube (click here to subscribe to the InvestorIntel Channel), Brent Willis highlighted the limited supply of naturally occurring, high grade, barium sulfate. He went on to explain how having one of the most accessible and highest-grade barium sulfate deposits in the world, grading over 98% barium sulfate, allows Voyageur to become a low-cost producer of high-value barium sulfate products and ensure full integration of the radiology drug market. Brent also provided an update on Voyageur's newly created Scientific Advisory Board of world-class leading physicians in the medical radiology industry.

About Voyageur Pharmaceuticals Ltd.

Voyageur is a Canadian public company listed on the TSXV under the trading symbol VM. Voyageur is focused on the development of barite and iodine Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients ("API") and high-performance cost-effective imaging contrast agents for the medical radiology marketplace. Voyageur's goal is to initially generate positive cash flow from operations using third party GMP pharmaceutical manufacturers in Canada and internationally. Ultimately, Voyageur has plans to build all the required infrastructure to become 100% self-sufficient with all manufacturing. Voyageur owns a 100% interest in three barium sulphate (barite) projects including the Frances Creek property, suitable in grade for the pharmaceutical barite marketplace, with interests in a high-grade iodine, lithium & bromine brine project located in Utah, USA.

Voyageur is moving forward with its business plan of becoming the only fully integrated company in the radiology medical field, by controlling all primary input costs under the motto of: "From the Earth to the Bottle".
