Toronto, November 15, 2023 – The Critical Minerals Institute (CMI), an international organization dedicated to advancing the critical minerals sector, is pleased to announce an upcoming Masterclass titled Navigating the Critical Minerals and Flow-Through Landscape. This virtual event, focusing on the exploration of critical minerals and the innovative charitable flow-through model, promises to be an enlightening experience for professionals and enthusiasts alike.

Date: Monday, November 20th

Time: 7-8 PM EST

Format: Virtual Event, Click Here to Register

Guided by CMI Director Tracy Weslosky, this masterclass will bring together notable figures like Peter Nicholson from WEALTH, Jean-Philippe Côté from Fasken, and Peter Clausi, also a CMI Director. They will explore the latest trends, opportunities, and challenges in the critical minerals landscape.

Highlights of the session include:

- An in-depth explanation of the charity flow-through model, detailing its structure and benefits under Canada's Income Tax Act.

- Discussion on the Critical Mineral Exploration Tax Credit (CMETC), a crucial development in Canada's 2022 budget that enhances capital raising capabilities in the mining sector.
- Insights into the role of critical minerals in modern technology and clean energy solutions.

This masterclass is an excellent opportunity to expand your knowledge, network with industry experts, and gain insights into the critical minerals sector and investment strategies.
