

Dev Randhawa on Fission 3.0 and why ESG Investors are looking at Uranium

written by InvestorNews | August 16, 2021

In a recent InvestorIntel interview, Peter Clausi speaks with Dev Randhawa, Chairman and CEO of Fission 3.0 Corp. (TSXV: FUU | OTCQB: FISOF) about the rising market interest in uranium and exploring for uranium in Canada's Athabasca Basin, the world's leading source of high-grade uranium.

In this InvestorIntel interview, which may also be viewed on YouTube (click here to subscribe to the InvestorIntel Channel), Dev went on to say how Fission 3.0 has been able to stake a portfolio of near-surface high-grade uranium assets in close proximity to other major uranium discoveries. Led by the team that founded Fission Uranium Corp. (TSX: FCU | OTCQX: FCUUF) and made the Patterson Lake South (PLS) high-grade uranium discovery, Dev said that Fission 3.0 has significant insider ownership which aligns the management's interest with that of the shareholders. Dev also highlighted the uranium supply deficit and the rising interest in the sector. He added, "...it is the only energy that is carbon-free, has no footprint yet can provide baseload power."
