“By integrating with Fundamental Interaction’s Real-Time Trading System, we are enabling FINRA-regulated firms to offer secure and compliant access to crypto markets alongside equities and alternatives,” said Peter Tassiopoulos, CEO of ALT5 Sigma Corp. “This is a turnkey pathway for regulated institutions to engage in digital asset trading with the tools, workflows, and auditability they already use.”

Market Context: The FINRA Broker-Dealer Opportunity

There are over 3,300 FINRA-registered broker-dealers in the United States, collectively managing trillions of dollars in assets and facilitating billions of trades annually across equities, fixed income, and alternative assets. According to FINRA's latest report<sup>1</sup>, more than $110 trillion in transaction volume flows through U.S. broker-dealers each year – representing a powerful distribution and execution channel for emerging asset classes like digital assets.

The ALT5-Fundamental Interaction integration provides these institutions with a direct and compliant way to expand their product offerings to include regulated digital asset trading, while maintaining operational efficiency and audit-ready reporting.

“Our clients have asked for a way to integrate digital assets without reinventing their workflow,” said Shawn Sloves, CEO of Fundamental Interaction. “With ALT5 Sigma's FIX API, they can now offer institutional-grade crypto execution in the same environment they already use for trading equities and alternatives – backed by compliance, risk controls, and market depth.”
