written by Raj Shah | February 6, 2026

February 6, 2026 (Source) – DMG Blockchain Solutions Inc. (TSX-V: DMGI) (OTCQB US: DMGGF) (FRANKFURT: 6AX) (“DMG”), a leading vertically integrated blockchain and data center technology company, announces it has been awarded a $1.5 million energy efficiency incentive related to the deployment of hydro direct liquid cooled (DLC) server technology at its Christina Lake data center facility.

This incentive was based on an energy efficiency study performed by an independent third party, which calculated a target energy savings for a given computational capacity using air-cooled technology and the resulting energy savings by converting to DLC. From the estimated savings and the budget to deploy the new cooling technology, an energy efficiency incentive was offered to encourage DMG’s investment in this upgrade.

DMG’s CEO, Sheldon Bennett, commented, “We were pleased when the final results of the energy efficiency study exceeded our initial calculations for savings. This was a major project for our local Christina Lake operations team, and we are using this upgrade as the cornerstone for future hydro implementations as well as for other potential novel technology improvements. We are honored to have been recognized for our operational expertise in utilizing the latest chip cooling technology. In addition to announcing this incentive, DMG remains actively focused on activities to convert its Christina Lake facility into a world-class AI data center.”
