(“dynaCERT” or the “Company”) is pleased to announce that Alltrucks GmbH & Co. KG, a joint venture of the leading automotive and commercial vehicle suppliers Bosch, Knorr-Bremse and ZF, has entered into a formal Agreement with dynaCERT effective September 1st, 2020. Alltrucks offers a Pan-European workshop concept for maintaining and repairing commercial vehicles of all types and brands. Under the joint brand “Alltrucks Truck & Trailer Service” one of the largest workshop networks in Europe is operated, which already 700 workshops in 12 countries have joined.

In cooperation with the dynaCERT GmbH sales team, a wholly owned subsidiary of dynaCERT in Europe, Alltrucks intends to introduce and promote marketing, installation and servicing of dynaCERT’s HydraGEN™ product line to the established network of Alltrucks.

dynaCERT and Alltrucks will be initially launching in Germany in September 2020 and plan an expansion to all countries in which Alltrucks is active. As a result of this cooperation, the commercial vehicle workshops participating in the Alltrucks network have the opportunity to become resellers, installers and service providers of dynaCERT’s HydraGEN™ product line.

Homer Smyrliadis, Managing Director of Alltrucks, stated: “With dynaCERT as a new cooperation partner, we can expand the competences as well as the business opportunities of our workshop partners in the field of retrofitting combustion motors to achieve more fuel efficiency and emission reduction. This will enable our partners to provide new services to their customers in the future, and at the same time to contribute to the environmental relief. We are excited that our workshop network will work with dynaCERT's innovative hydrogen technology in the German market."

Jim Payne, CEO of dynaCERT stated, "This new cooperation can expose dynaCERT's HydraGEN™ Technology to the ground level of Alltrucks workshop partners in Europe, the very people who have expertise in repair and maintenance of trucks in many of our targeted markets. dynaCERT is very pleased that such a high-profile European organization has endorsed our products and we look forward to a long-lasting relationship with Alltrucks."
