FinCanna Capital Corp. ("FinCanna") (CSE:CALI)(OTCQB:FNNZF), a royalty company for the U.S. licensed cannabis industry, is pleased to announce growing demand and onboarding of state leading cannabis brands for its investee company QVI, Inc. doing business as "The Galley", a cannabis-infused product manufacturer located in Sonoma County, California.

Andriyko Herchak, CEO of FinCanna Capital said, "We're very happy with QVI's growing roster of great brands and the continued increase of monthly re-orders from these customers. This accelerating growth clearly demonstrates the abilities of QVI's outstanding team led by CEO Annie Holman and their growing reputation across the industry for excellence. We are witnessing a breakthrough year for QVI and look forward to sharing in their success with an increasing monthly royalty income stream for our shareholders."

QVI's 8,300 sq. ft. state-of-the-art co-manufacturing facility located in Santa Rosa, CA, is built to FDA and CDPH standards and has been fully operational since July 2020. The company is experiencing a steady increase in re-orders from existing clients that is establishing an increasing base of recurring monthly revenues. Additionally, the company is benefitting from accelerating demand for its services from a growing roster of over 35 in-state and out-of-state brands including some of the most in-demand consumer names like, Laurie + MaryJane, with Laurie being named “the Martha Stewart of Marijuana Edibles” by The New Yorker magazine, additional description below, as well as House of Saka, and Green Bee Botanicals, that have provided the following testimonials.

Laurie + MaryJane is an award-winning, family-owned, and women-led edible company launched in 2014 and based out of Portland, Oregon. Laurie is a trained chef as well as medical cannabis patient and advocate. In 2014 Laurie started the company with her daughter-in-law Mary, a Jane-of-all-trades. Their sacred mission: “to make the most delicious, reliable, and effective cannabis edibles.”

“Moving the production of our infused wines to the Galley was among the best decisions we’ve made to date,” said House of Saka, CEO, Tracey Mason. “Their professionalism, attention to detail and unwavering commitment to the highest quality standards are simply unmatched. We look forward to growing with them in the years to come.”

Bridget May, CEO of Green Bee Botanicals states “It is a treat to work with Annie Holman and The Galley. Her production team, who has recently produced a batch of our award-winning Brightening Eye Cream, is efficient and knowledgeable. They asked all the right questions and even pointed out alternative procedures we hadn’t considered in the production process. I have complete confidence in The Galley and their ability to produce our products perfectly.”

QVI management attributes the acceleration of customer demand to its automated manufacturing expertise, superior production quality and its “one-stop shop” capability to produce virtually all high-value cannabis products including edibles, topicals, tinctures, chocolate, hard candies, gummies and beverages under one roof. Additionally, its outstanding R&D team has the ability to assist brands in launching not only new individual products but whole new product lines. The Galley’s operational design also positions the business to rapidly scale production as demand escalates towards its annual operating capacity of approximately US$45 million. The word is getting out. The Galley is being increasingly recognized as “the” manufacturing solution for in and out-of-state Brands who recognize that in a competitive marketplace, only the “best” will do.”

QVI’s immediate goal is to become the premier contract cannabis manufacturer in California, the largest single market in North America and, upon success, to license products nationally and globally.
